

Dear Parents / Carers

Thank you for all your support on World Book Day. It was fabulous to see so many wonderful costumes.

World Book Day reminds us of how important reading is and then we must continue to share and enjoy books everyday.

Choosing to read for pleasure makes a huge difference to children's life chances and if I can ask one thing of everyone it would be to read together at home everyday. This could be a bedtime story or an 'any time that works best' story.

Please don't stop when your children can read independently. Sharing books is good for both the adult and child. It helps to make connections in the brain and releases positive endorphins.

Remember - reading changes lives.

Best wishes

Simon

In the news this week

The Princess of Wales has recently shared pictures, drawn by herself, Prince George, Princess Charlotte, and Prince Louis, of each other. The artworks, shared on social media, are part of the Shaping Us campaign, which highlights how we develop skills to connect with others from a young age. The pictures also aim to raise awareness of an exhibition, launched by The Princess, at the National Portrait Gallery in London, encouraging children to explore their relationships and feelings.

Things to talk about at home ...

- Share your thoughts on the drawings. Have you ever drawn a portrait of someone? Do you think this type of activity could help build connections with others?
- Can you think of any other ways you can connect with others around you?
- Talk to someone at home about some of the people you are connected to.

Is it important to feel proud of where you come from?
